The Spirit of Hampshire High School

Who can say what strange element gives Hampshire High School its unique personality? It is an evasive thing; no one can point to any one aspect of our life at Hampshire and say, "This is it," for it is a combination of many different things.

It is the patient understanding and expert helpfulness of the school officials, the administration, and the teachers.

It is the zeal with which the student undertakes his tasks. It is the pride he takes in achievement and the impetus he gains from defeat.

It is the friendly smiles he meets as he goes through the day and the many friendships which lighten his load.

It is the drive of the Trojans as they seek to bring glory to the school and the warm feeling which comes to their fans when they do.

It is even the routine changing of classes and the familiar chats in the halls before school and at lunch.

It is the growth that Hampshire has shown in this its fourth year of being. It is the promise of future growth as H. H. S. takes its place among the superior high schools in the region.

It is the Spirit of Hampshire High School.

Contemporary architecture located on a rise commanding a view of the West Virginia hills, Hampshire High stands out as one of the top senior high schools in West Virginia.

Growing in Four Short Years

Mr. Kidner helps Juniors with their Senior year schedules.

"Where's Gig?"

"Mrs. Bailey, from now on you'll have to pack your own lunch!"

These boys really look excited about buying their new Chemistry books.

The birth and growth of the Spirit of Hampshire High School was not spontaneous. It has required patience, cooperation, and much hard work on the part of the many people who have contributed to its growth.

Several years ago, school officials began dreaming and planning for a new consolidated school to meet the educational needs of the young people of Hampshire County. Perhaps it was then that the Spirit first began to creep its way into existence.

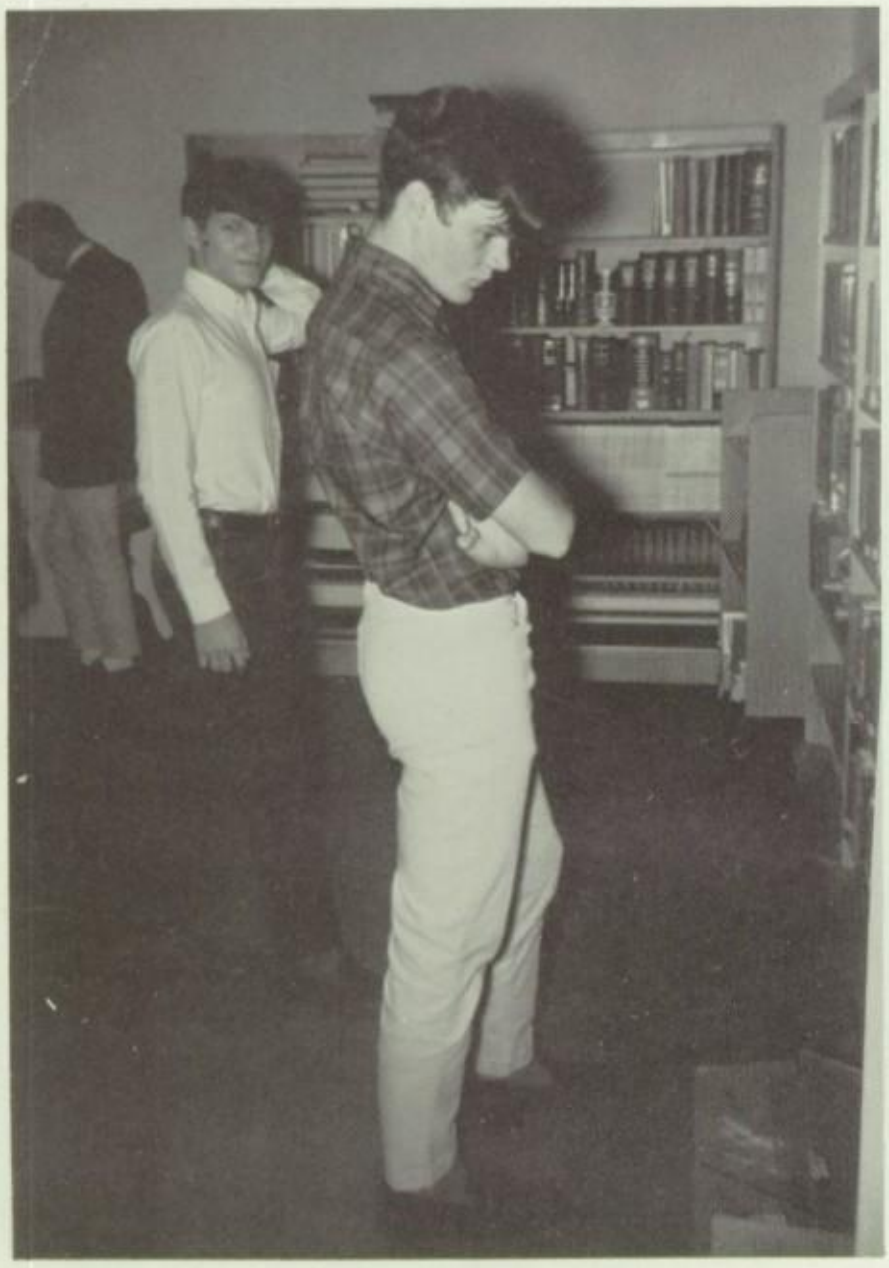
In September of 1964, the dream was realized and Hampshire High School first opened its doors. These first four years have certainly not been easy. There have been old ties to break and new ones to form. There have been traditions to begin for the years ahead. There has been a Spirit to build.

Each individual who has played a part in its development has reason to feel proud as the Spirit grows and thrives.

Into a Vital Force at H.H.S.

Mr. Calvert is always willing to help with our confusing schedules.

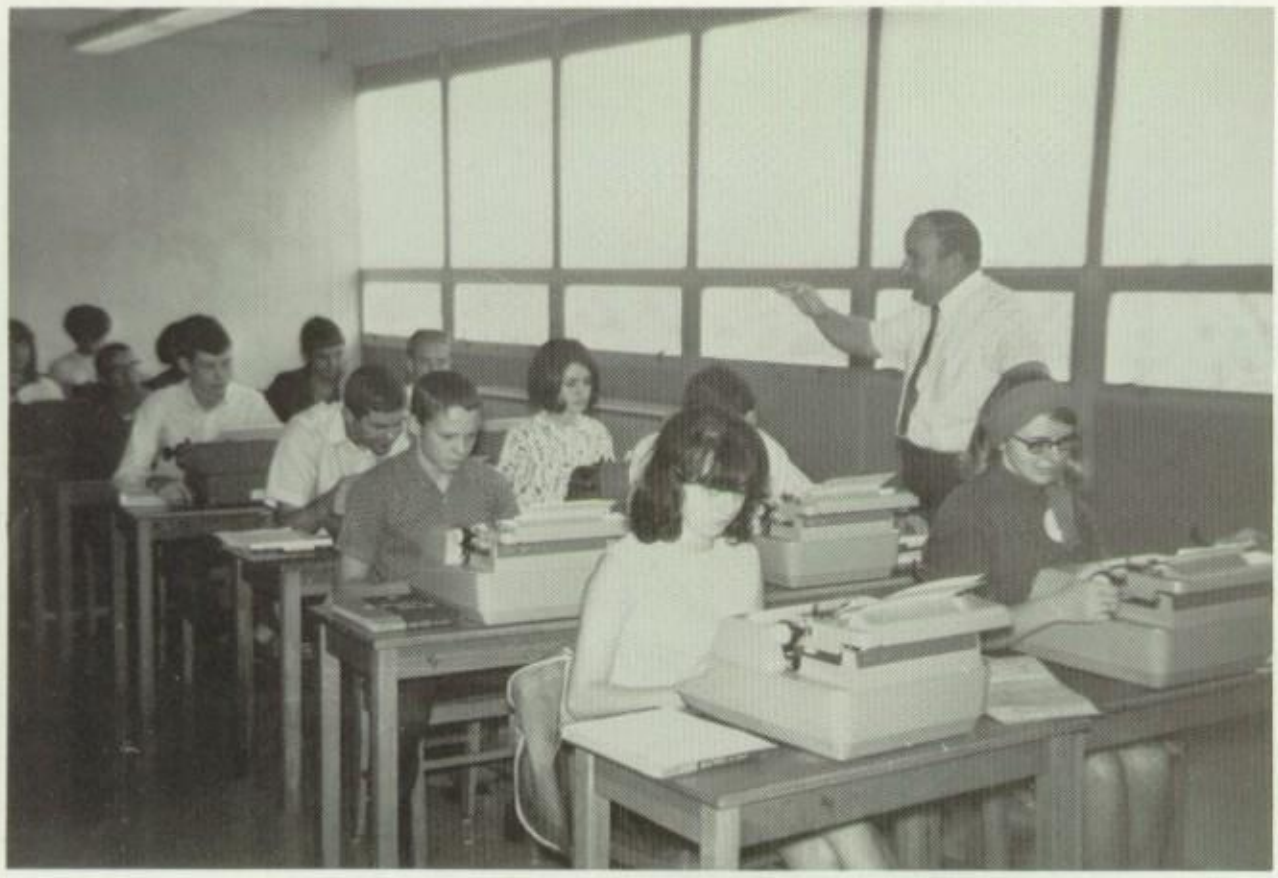
"35¢ for your overdue book. Lynn, hand over lunch money."



"Finding the right book is sometimes a hard job; right Tim?"

The library is not only for student's work.

In the Classes We Attend



Mr. Swiger is always ready to conduct us in a medley of typing tunes.

Mr. Clovis tries to point out that there definitely is a frog under Jimmy's desk.

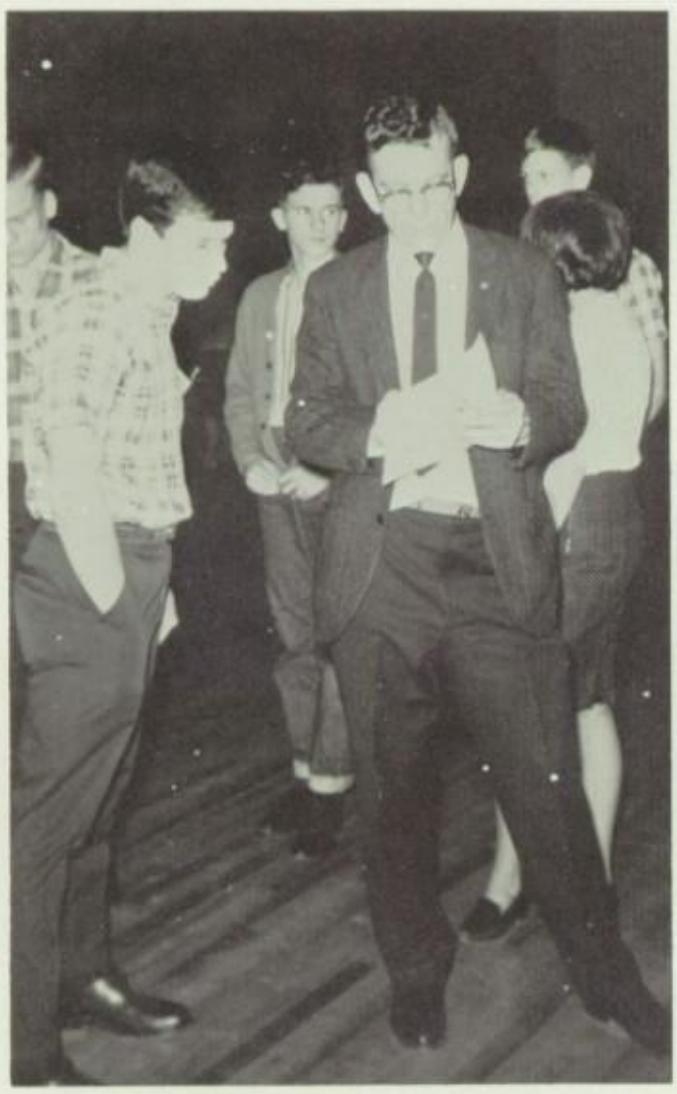
These students use the new shorthand equipment under the watchful eye of Mrs. Fultz.

It's no use. I'll never understand the Einstein Theory.

A Spirit of Learning

Mr. Keaton's history class presents a mock trial.

Girls in Phys. Ed. classes learn good sportsmanship besides building healthy bodies.



An understanding principal is sometimes just what we're looking for.

"It'll take forever to get my ring out of this mess!"

The Spirit is not difficult to find in the classroom. Academic, general, and vocational courses require from the student sincere interest and earnest work. They require from the teacher a devotion and dedication to education.

A desire to teach, an eagerness to learn, and willingness to work—all of these form the Spirit of academics, the heart of school life at Hampshire High School.

The Spirit of Our Trojan

And His Legend

There is a legend of five wise men who sought to find the most intelligent, courageous, cunning, and sturdy creature on the earth. They roamed the countryside until they came to West Virginia. Here an old mountain man told them that two such creatures could be found in Hampshire County. The wise men came to Hampshire County and found them. One was the cunning, fierce Bobcat and the other the wise, sturdy Pioneer. The wise men put the Bobcat and Pioneer through all sorts of tests but alas, the two were both the victors, for neither could outdo the other. The wise men were about to return home sorrowfully when one suggested that if someone could combine the two, certainly you would have the most splendid creature alive. This they did and the result was the Trojan Warrior. This Warrior was as sly and fierce as the Bobcat, but as wise and brave as the Pioneer. The five wise men had found what they were looking for because the Trojan Warrior proved victorious over everything else, be it man or beast. The Trojan Warrior was and is the Best!

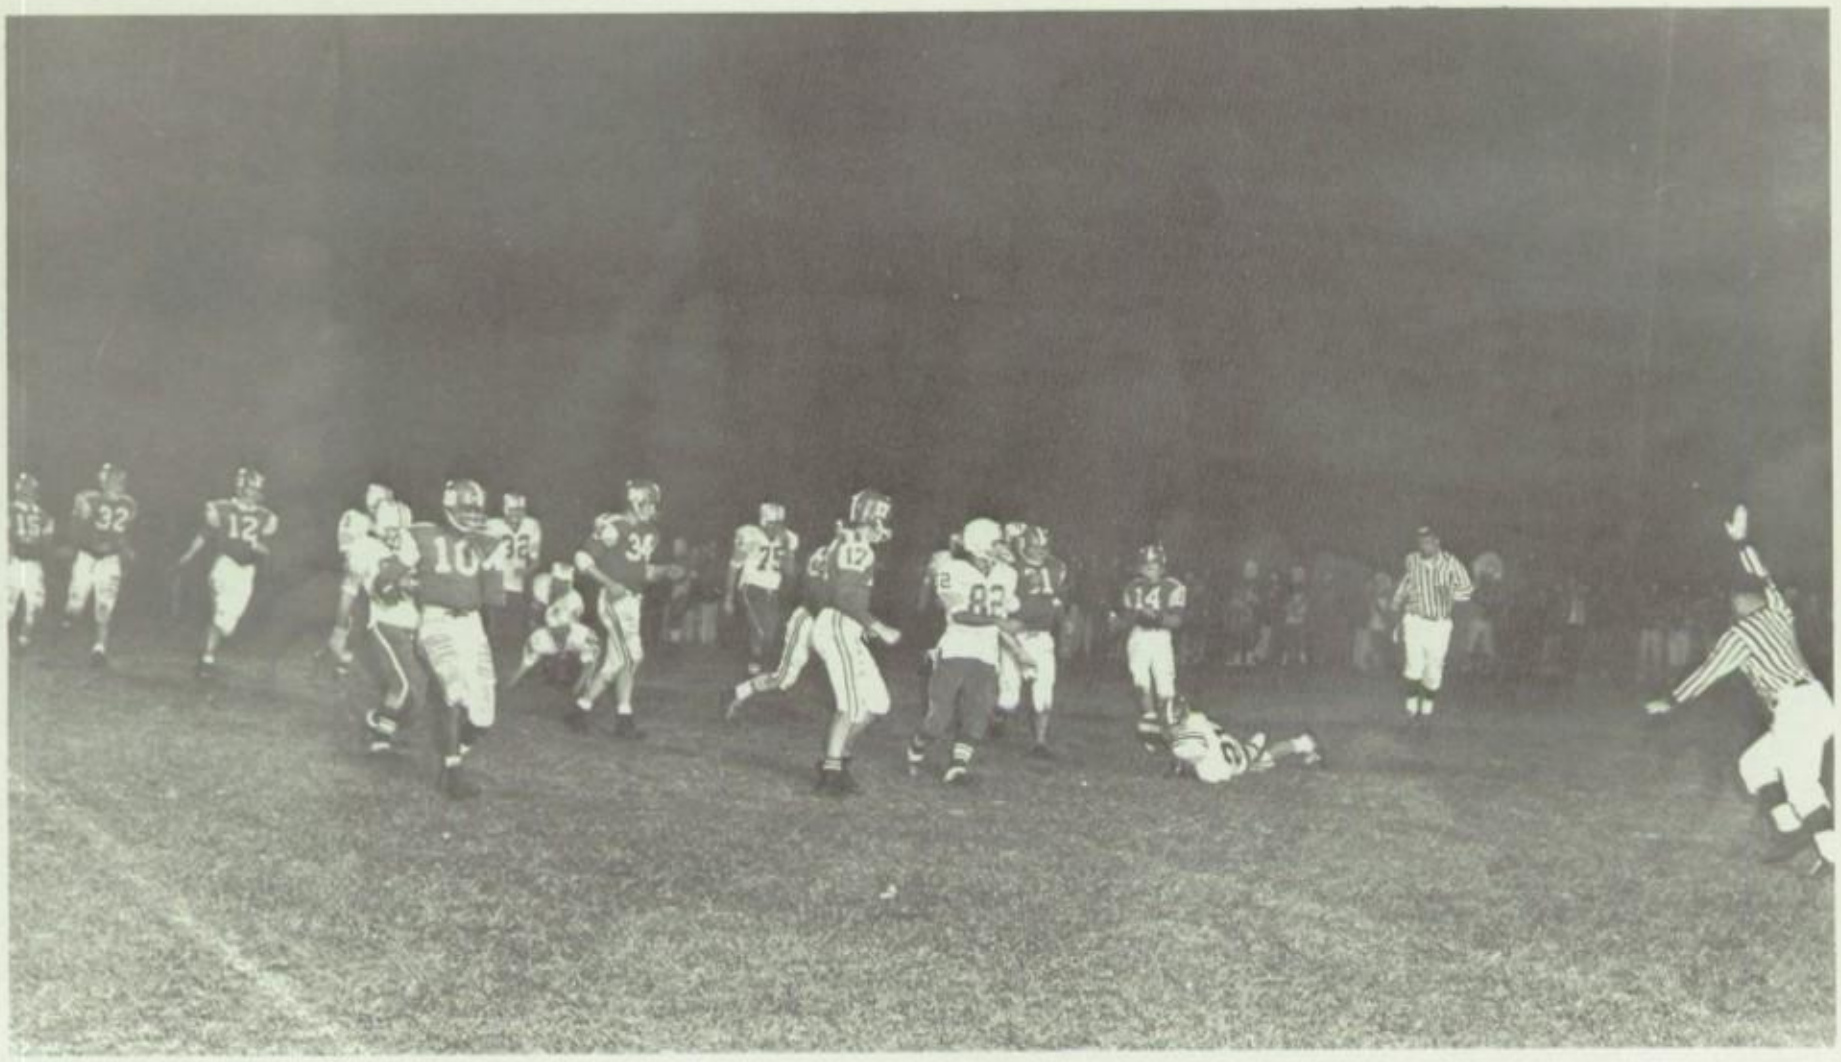
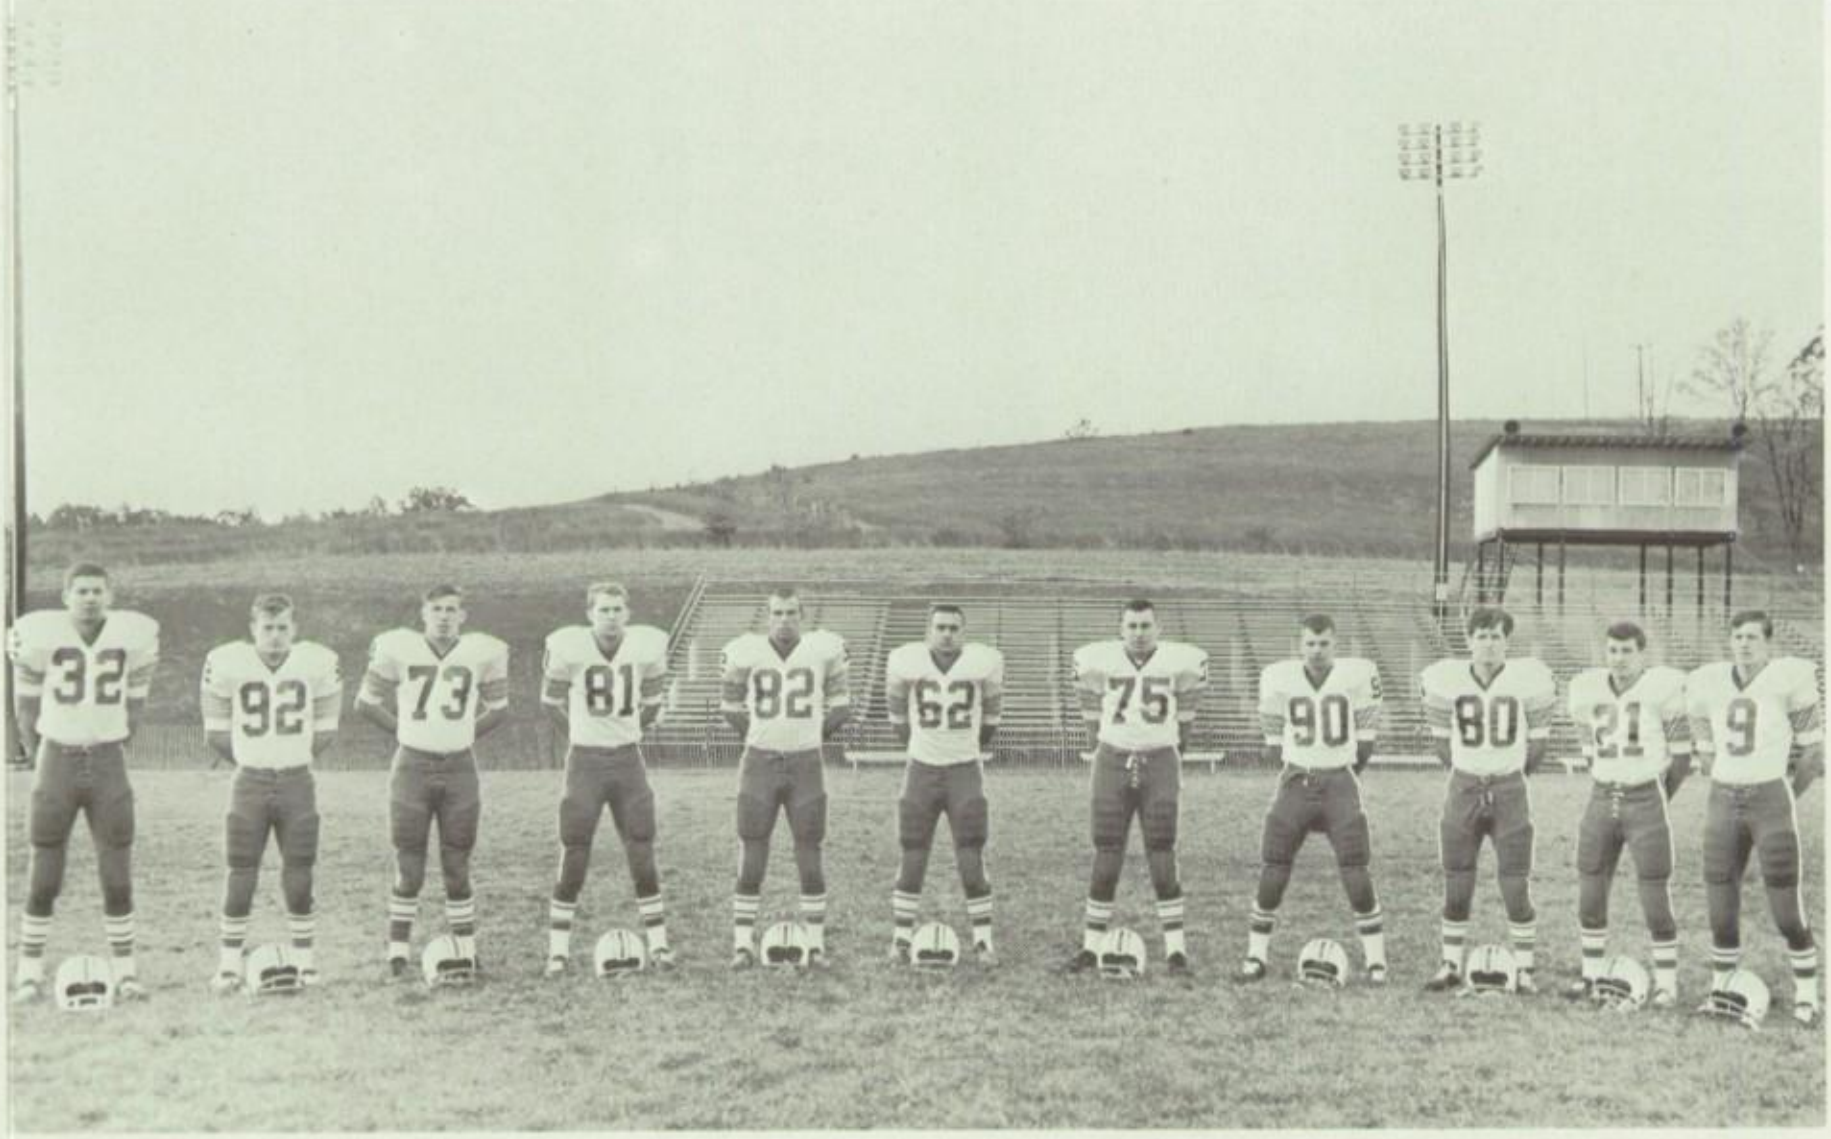
Hampshire High was an active participant in sports throughout the year. The teams demonstrated great skill and determination while the student body displayed the Spirit to support them. Each person who had a part in any sport did his best for his team, and the result was a record of which any school would be proud.

Athletics was not only a vital part of the school but one full of life and vigor. There was the thrill of a touchdown and the tension of a close game. Each person, whether playing or watching, soon felt the Spirit spread over all present. After a game, each student felt his heart swell with pride to realize how well his team had played, regardless of whether they won or lost.

Every Boy Who Wears the Green and White



Gary Fuller hits the dirt in the Farmington game which ended in a close Trojan victory–20-13.



WHICH ONE WILL BE CHOSEN MISS AMERICA? These are the Senior boys who lead the Trojan team to victory. Hurrah!

In Our Students, a Spirit of

"V" is for victory!

"33 inches! I don't believe it!"

Pop quiz.

Another delicious treat prepared by Miss Powall's Home Ec. class.

The school sympathizes with those not as fortunate as the rest.

This year and the preceding ones have offered excellent opportunities to make friends. Little things such as riding the bus, meeting classmates in the cafeteria, and changing classes were often taken for granted. But perhaps it will be these small everyday activities that will linger the longest with students who leave Hampshire.

Fun and Determination

"Mr. Row, are you in there?"

These girls learn that a nursing career can be very rewarding.

I wonder if this is the way to win the band director's heart?

These Juniors are just finishing the three days of taking SCAT tests.

LOST AND FOUND Looks like P. J. has finally found his Sunday gloves.

And of Hampshire High School,

"What do you mean—it's a fire drill and not class change."

Even as we plan for the future, the Spirit of Hampshire High will remain with us.

Another day—another term paper. Right, Sue?

Linda thinks this college sounds pretty good.

A Spirit We'll Never Forget.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

With emphasis on understanding and a sincere dedication to their students, the H.H.S. faculty has endeavored to instill within each of us the knowledge needed for tomorrow. Still they found time in their busy and sometimes hectic day to answer the questions of curious students and to have a laugh with their class.

Because of their real interest in young people, members of the H.H.S. faculty have become some of our most highly respected friends. The students of Hampshire greatly appreciate their unending efforts on our behalf.

Many Students here at Hampshire don't realize what a job it is to run a school. This work has been put on the shoulders of the faculty and administrators. These are the people who make the guide lines that will affect us throughout our lives. Sometimes this job is rough, but at the end is a goal of better understanding and knowledge. We would like to take this opportunity to express the school's gratitude to the people who really deserve it.

SENIORS

Through years of hard work and fun, we have finally become Seniors. As we look forward to the years ahead, we will also look back and remember such things as the last minute cram at exam time, the warm and lasting friendships, the Junior-Senior banquet, and our unsuccessful attempts at trying to grasp the meaning of Shakespeare.

We leave with hope for the future, but sorrow at having to leave our high school days behind. But as we leave, wherever we may go, we'll always carry with us the Spirit of Hampshire High.

JUNIORS

Springtime was on the way, and sentimental Juniors began to realize that their one–and–only Junior year was about to come to a close. They could feel that they were really prepared for being top-rank Seniors in '69. As they took part in activities and did their share of the work, they achieved self confidence and felt a sense of pride in tasks well done. And, as they worked, they helped the Spirit grow.

ATHLETICS

This year there was plenty of school spirit in action at H.H.S. Through each season Trojan fans backed their teams in victory and in defeat. Before the games we yelled as the cheerleaders led us in pep rallies. Each class competed for the possession of the cherished Spirit trophy in these thuses.

All in all, action at Hampshire truly reached its peak in '68.

The object of this Society shall be to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character.

No honor or responsibility conferred by the school excels that represented by the National Honor Society. It represents the fundamental objectives for which schools are instituted and gives recognition to those who have attained most nearly the desired ends. This Society looks upon education as a total product measured by the four dimensions of life.

Candidates eligible to election to the chapter shall have a scholarship average of a B, or its equivalent. Their leadership is not based merely on the holding of extra-curricular offices, but on the efficiency with which their duties were performed. They put service to others above self-interest. By giving time, effort, and talents, not for personal gain but for the class, school, or community as a whole. Members of the National Honor Society demonstrate the highest standards of attitude toward honesty, reliability, fairness and tolerance. They uphold the principles of morality and ethics.
